Description:

This class will encompass many life skills. Skills will include hand sewing, machine sewing, sewing on buttons, embroidery, and a variety of hand crafts. We will also have seasonal crafts when the time arises. Making a new and useful dress out of a second-hand, oversized dress, or possibly even making a small quilt or baby blanket out of scraps of outgrown clothing may be on the agenda. The introductory crocheting that some of the students already learned will be incorporated into some of these items. We will begin with four main crafts; a rag rug, a hot dog pillow, and an heirloom doll, and a table runner. The class will proceed from there based on student interest. Students will be taught how and why their great grandparents made these items...i.e (waste not, want not...the need to save everything and make something useful out of it). Also, it is also our goal to teach students to bless others with the gifts God has given them. Students will be encouraged to give the items they have made as gifts to benefit and bless others.
