Description:

In the education of boys today, we've lost the importance of work as a most effective tutor; what is the good of knowing how to read or write if a young man doesn't have the heart to work, to produce, and to create? In this class we will attempt to express a biblical perspective of work and the richness of life it brings. We will use Created for Work by Bob Shultz and Glory and Grace by Randall Kok to appreciate our creator who is always at work and who has made us in his image. In the classroom, we will study the verses outlined in the book and how they relate to our lives.
