

Intro Research Paper

Instructor: Rebecca Sharp
Co-teacher?

Class Code : RSH100

Tuition : $55

Length of Class (1st sem/ 2nd sem/both) 2nd Sem

Materials Fee : none

Description:

In this course I will BRIEFLY review writing basics for sentences and paragraph structure but will mainly focus on the "guts" of putting together a research paper to meet the standards of excellence that the Lord requires of us in all of our works. Students will learn how to plan and organize a research paper with a specific note-taking/bibliography system based on index cards in MLA format. Students will write a research paper following proper MLA guidelines that is a MINIMUM of 1,500 words (parents can determine a longer minimum for their student based on their diploma program if necessary). I hope to bring an element of joy to one of the daunting tasks of high school and to take some of the dread out of a skill that they will have to carry with them into their future. This class will have high expectations, homework, deadlines, and will require diligence and 100% effort but it will reap great rewards in the end product and the knowledge gained.

Enrollment: 5 Max: 10

Pre-Requisites: Basic typing, internet, and writing skills

Required Text: none

Additional Materials: lined index cards, basic word processing software, basic MLA handbook (physical copy for class), access to internet, library, and other research materials.
